Foreword

This exhibition of Karl Schrag's work consists of paintings, water-colors, gouaches, pastels and prints, the very large majority of these having been created by the artist during the past three years.

In the main, the subject matter of the works included in the exhibition are related to landscapes and the various types of forms to be found in nature, and one of the significant factors relating to these is the wide range of concept and execution employed by the artist in projecting them in the various mediums being used. Although many of the works are fundamentally expressionistic in concept examples are to be found in which the abstract relationship of the forms involved are a predominant factor. As a whole, the works to be found in this exhibition prove Karl Schrang to be an imaginative artist of unusual creative ability and one who is making a significant contribution to the art of his time.

PLEASE NOTE—A separate folder containing information relating to the artist and his work is available to those visiting the Art Center's Galleries.
