FOREWORD

The items included in the present exhibition were recently acquired by the Art Center for its permanent collection; this being the first time these works have been exhibited in the Center's galleries.

Objectively, the works included in this exhibition may be divided into two individual categories, the first of these being composed of forty-two black and white prints entitled "Greek Mythology" by Hideo Hagiwara. The artist's concept of this subject matter is an extremely personal one bringing to the present day an imaginative revival of all factors related to it.

Category number two consists of forty prints in color relating to a wide range of subject matter. These are the works of fourteen individual artists, many of whom are represented by several prints. Here, one may find strong contrasts regarding concept and execution in the works of the artists represented, a number of these being masterpieces of their kind.

*All Items in this Exhibition
Are Woodcuts*
